

The Federal Communications Commission
445 12th Street, SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear The Federal Communications Commission,

Dear Chairman Martin:

Please consider the fair USF fees.

Large buisinesses use cell phones to make money plain and simple.

Consumers use cell phones for social and private activities. Such use by consumers saves significant amount of energy resources.

The average middle class American pays the majority of taxes, fees, tariffs, surcharges, adjustments, funds, charges.

I'm not sure why the goverment is insistant on overregulating this industry?

I allready pay $17 dolllars of taxes on a $51 dollar phone bill on my land line. (Thats 33% tax)

Stop looking for ways to tax the middle class American and find ways to become a more efficient organization.

Sincerely, Chris Cornell 911 Shadeland Ave Drexel Hill, PA 19026

Sincerely,

Chris Cornell
911 Shadeland Ave
drexel Hill, Pa, Pennsylvania 19026